Soon after we restarted this website, a number of our viewers suggested we set up an online DONATE feature. This feature is now available and activated by clicking on the donate box in the top banner on our homepage. The ec47.com PayPal account is secured through a business account in a Wells Fargo bank in San Angelo, Texas. The function of this online feature is to allow all viewers to make contributions for use in support of the domain name registration and the on-going hosting, design, maintenance and training contract with MediaJaw. Joe and Tom require some additional content management system (CMS) training before they are ready for an unassisted operation. Estimated cost for the 2015-2016 contract is $1,000. After this next year, the annual operating costs should drop to less than half this amount. Thanks to everyone for your support! The General Ledger Donations graphic above will be updated as additional contributions are received. Check out this feature on the homepage.
